PICKAWAY, ROSS LAND FAVORED FOR NEW CAMP

Congressman Claypool Says
46,000 Acres Tentatively
Selected By Army
DEVELOPMENTS AWAITED
Project Would Place City
Between Two Important
Defense Works

A United States Army camp, expected to cover 46,000 acres of land in Pickaway and Ross Counties, has been tentatively allocated by the War Department. Announcement of the tentative selection of the site was made in Washington by Congressman Harold K. Claypool, who represents the two counties.

Several weeks ago a survey of the tract was made by the Army.
The area to be covered is about six miles wide and 12 miles long.
Details of the camp and the type of training contemplated were not divulged.

The proposed site includes a strip of land along the Scioto River. The camp would extend into Wayne, Perry and Deercreek Townships in Pickaway County.

Congressman Claypool said in a telephone conversation Thursday night that the camp might be used for training mechanized units in the Fifth Corps Area, due to the nature of the terrain.

Farmers in both Ross and Pickaway County have opposed the camp location and during last summer held several meetings to protest its establishment in this area. A delegation was sent to Washington to confer with War Department officials on the matter and was advised at that time that the government considered the land too valuable for the production of agricultural products for defense to warrant immediate establishment of the camp there.
Circleville Chamber of Commerce laid behind the farmers in opposing the camp.

Other Sites Named
Other sites selected by the War Department, according to Congressman Claypool, were Rowan Springs, Pa., Blisstown, Ill.,
Gainesville, Texas, and Centerville, Miss.

Officials in Washington said that no funds are now available for acquisition or construction on any of the sites, but that the selections were made so that plans could be perfected if an increase in army strength made additional camps necessary.

An Army camp in the Chillicothe area would place Circleville between two important army bases, the camp on the south and a $7,500,000 airport on the north.

Airport Work Begins
Work on the new airport, located five miles north of Ashville near Groveport, already has begun. The port will cover an area of two square miles in the western part of Hamilton Townships of Franklin County. Buildings are to include hangars, housing facilities and repair structures. The port will be served by U. S. 23.

KNOX PREDICTS LONG, HARD WAR

Foes Are Formidable, U. S.
Naval Academy Graduates
Are Informed

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 19.—
Secretary of the Navy Knox warned the nation today that it is faced with "what promises to be a long and costly war" against "formidable" enemies "equipped with powerful land and sea forces and the largest naval force, at present, in the Western Pacific, "where most of the sea fighting will be done."

Knox, speaking at graduation exercises for the U. S. Naval Academy's class of 1942, added however, that "formidable though our enemies may be you can be sure that victory—eventually and inevitably—will be ours."

The navy chief cautioned that "we must not underestimate the enemy," pointing out that "their forces include a huge and highly efficient army which, until very recently, carried all before it on

VICTORY BUDGET DRAWN

Two Houses Debating Age
Limits For Broader Draft Measure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Vested by Congress with the most sweeping powers any wartime commander-in-chief has ever possessed over the very life and economy of the American people, President Roosevelt moved swiftly on many fronts today to insure an ultimate knockout blow for Japan,
Germany, Italy and their satellites.

A succession of new emergency measures were being prepared at unbelievable speed — measures that will soon bring home to every citizen a full realization he has a personal stake in the deadliest war of all history.

Fragmentary information that has cleared through censorship in many sections of the world further indicated that a meeting is imminent—probably in Washington —between the chief military and economic spokesmen for the United States, Great Britain, Russia,
China and the Netherlands.

If broad hints from London in particular are to be believed, President Roosevelt soon will be presiding over a meeting from which may evolve a Supreme War Council of the nations joined in common battle front against the axis powers. In Washington, there was a "black-out" silence on these reports.

Accord Reported

The United States meanwhile, has reached a naval accord with the Vichy government of Martinique, French outpost in the Caribbean. Admiral Frederick J.
Horne, a navy "trouble-shooter," is believed to have negotiated the accord with Vichy Admiral Georges Robert, high commissioner of the French Antilles. Details of the accord remain secret until after Admiral Horne reports to his chiefs, but it may include an

SLIPPERY ROADS CAUSE MISHAPS IN COUNTY AREA

Fog shrouded and slippery high-caused several automobiles to run off the highway, and resulted in two traffic collisions on Route 22

west of Circleville.

A Glass Service Company truck
from Lancaster, driven by Claude Ditto, Sugar Grove Road, Lancaster, and an automobile driven by Emmitt Ebenhack, Williamsport, ran together a quarter of a mile west of Circleville about 7:30
a. m.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Weaver
said Ditto had stopped to clean the ice off his windshield when his truck was struck from the rear by Ebenhack's automobile.

NOTIFY NEWSPAPER OF CASUALTIES

Our country is at war, and the government has banned the publication of casualty lists.
Newspapers may carry stories about local boys in the services who have been killed or wounded, as taken from information sent to parents or other next of kin by the government. The only means the newspapers have of knowing names of the country's casualties is for the next of kin to inform us.

You may help in such a manner by telephoning, writing or calling in person at The Daily Herald office. In this manner, you also give proper information to friends and acquaintances who will want to know, and gain for your sons in the service public recognition due all American fighters who lose their lives or are wounded.

Likewise, if you have word from relatives or friends in the Pacific outposts concerning their safety, also notify The Daily Herald.
In publishing information concerning casualties newspapers are not permitted to state the military or naval unit to which the casualty was attached and the location of the action in which he was killed or wounded can be stated only in general terms.

Fayette Robbery

Two men alleged to have stolen dress goods from a Railway Ex-were captured by local police a short time later.

Patrolmen Alva Shasteen and Miller Fissell stopped the two men's car as it approached the Court Street intersection from West Main Street at 11:55 a. m.
The local officers were watching the Court and Main Street corner after they had been notified of the robbery by the State Highway Patrol.

At police headquarters, the men gave their names as Frank Harry Casey, 37, 353 Lincoln Avenue,
Youngstown salesman, and Joseph Horvath, 25, 850 Griffith Ave-

the express truck. He denied that his companion had anything to do

British Reveal Big Jap Force Raiding Island

Penang Surrenders After Garrison Is Able To Move Away; Flight Of Commander
From Strategic Crown Colony Denied

Heartening news came today from every sector of the vast battlefield of World War II, with the exception of two areas in the Pacific conflict.

In those two important sectors, the British naval base at Hong Kong and the island of Penang off the western Malayan coast, the situation was concededly grave.

Heavy fighting continues at Hong Kong but considerable Jap forces have effected a landing on the island so gallantly defended by British imperial forces. There is a definite possibility that this British base may fall into Japanese hands.

The colonial office announced that not the slightest credence should be attached to a report that Sir Mark Young, governor-general and military commander-in-chief of Hong Kong, had left the colony.

"We have been in telegraphic communication with him
this morning," a spokesman said.
"He is not only governor but commander-in-chief, and thus is unlikely to quit."

Penang was surrendered to the Japanese, London disclosed, after the British garrison on that strategic island was evacuated safely.

But from every other theatre of war there came news of new blows dealt the aggressive axis alliance. The Japanese "blitzkrieg" in the Pacific has definitely slowed up.
The only offensive Jap action against the United States today was two air raids of extreme brevity on the Cavite naval base near Manila.

The first raid lasted but ten minutes, the second even less. Both attacking waves flew at a respectful height — about five miles in the air — but they were driven off nevertheless by American anti-aircraft fire and swarms of interceptor planes.

Military strength of the axis powers appeared ebbing.

The Nazi rout in Russia continues with no diminution of the Russian counter-offensive that has astounded the world. In Libya, the Derna airport has fallen to British desert fighters and the German-Italian armies appear headed for certain defeat.

Stopped In Malaya

In Malaya, the Japanese have been stopped dead in their tracks
by the heavy fire poured on them
by British forces who have established a new and considerably stronger line from which a counter-offensive may be launched.
And in Sarawak, Netherlands East Indies bombing planes are blasting away at Japanese troop concentrations.

Aside from the raid on Manila,
the Jap militarists held their ships and planes and men well beyond the range of America's armed forces in the Pacific. There was no action against Hawaii during the day, so far as known, and even Tokyo failed to claim successes against American arms.

Far ranging American submarines also may have taught caution to the Japs. Sinking of a Jap transport and probable destruction of a destroyer by American sub-mersibles as well were reported in Washington. This served to emphasize the over-extended lines of communication which the Japs must supply to hold their toe-holds in the Pacific. From Japan to Guam, for instance, there is 1,500 miles of open water to traverse, and this vast expanse as well as all waters of the western Pacific

YOUNGSTOWN, O., STRIKE GOES ON DESPITE ORDERS

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 19.—Defying union leaders' orders to return to their jobs, 1800 members of the CIO-Steel Workers Organizing committee at the Struthers plant of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., today continued a strike, tying up large defense orders.

Although they were ordered by James P. Gallagher, SWOC field representative, to return to work yesterday afternoon the membership of Lodge No. 2162 voted to continue the walkout, leaders said.

The strike was called because of a dispute involving an "incentive system" of pay, under which the men were said to be dissatisfied with bonuses they were receiving.
Gallagher, who described the unionists' action as a "wildcat strike," said attempts were being made to continue mediation today.

ARMY STUDYING AIR CORPS MAN'S JAPANESE TALK

Col. H. C. Kress Muhlenberg
Confined To Quarters
By Van Voorhis

FORMERLY AT HICKAM

Only Nippon's Stupidity Saved Possessions In Pacific Ocean

Col. H. C. Kress Muhlenberg, an officer of the Army Air Corps since its inception in 1920, was under arrest Friday for saying in a public speech that only "Japanese stupidity" saved the Hawaiian islands for America in the attack of December 7.

The order for arrest came from Major General Daniel Van Voorhis, commander of the Fifth Corps.

Colonel Muhlenberg is a descendant of the Revolutionary War general for whom Muhlenberg Township, Pickaway County, was named. The air corps man's most recent visit to Pickaway County was during the Darbyville Centennial a year ago.

Area with headquarters at Fort Hayes, Columbus.

It automatically suspends Colonel Muhlenberg from his post as air officer of the corps area, requires that he remove the silver eagles denoting his rank and confines him to his residence pending investigation to determine whether he should be court-martialed.

Colonel Muhlenberg, a West Point graduate, and former commander of Hickman field where Japanese bombers wreaked devastation, spoke before members of the Curtiss Flying club of Columbus. It is made up of employees of the huge Curtiss-Wright Aircraft plant here.

Statement Quoted
After pleading that Americans put their faith in "bombers and not battleships," he asserted:

"America almost lost its vital possession (the Hawaiian islands) which was saved only through the stupidity of the enemy."

"Lack of air superiority in the Pacific paved the way for initial Japanese successes in the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippines."

"Japan's failure to concentrate all her forces on one objective was all that saved America's possessions."

"The Philippines are a commercial asset and a military liability and America must either dig in or get out of the Pacific area."

"Hawaii and the Philippines must become Pacific Gibraltar if they are to stand."

"The American public must stop looking for goats in the Japanese attack in the Pacific. The public itself is the goat in not insisting that our Pacific possessions be made into just such fortifications as Gibraltar."

Colonel Muhlenberg then asserted that most Japanese in the Hawaiian Islands are loyal and proud to wear the army uniform, but that those in the Philippines were sent there largely as Fifth Columnists.

He urged that loyal Japanese not be subjected to persecution under war hysteria.

Colonel Is 55

Colonel Muhlenberg is 55 years old and would retire in February. He was assigned to the air service when it was divorced from the signal corps in 1920 and made a separate army unit.

While under arrest he may leave his residence about three miles from Fort Hayes, but only for necessities.

803 Participate In Big Dairy Association Meet

Over one-half million dollars worth of business was conducted by the Pickaway Dairy Cooperative Association during 1941, according to a financial report of the dairy's business, read in Memorial Hall at the seventh annual meeting of the Association Thursday night. Sales during 1941 totaled $560,280.59.

The report shows a capital and surplus of $59,697.85 as of October 31, 1941. The number of pounds of butter produced ran over a million. The annual meeting brought together 803 rural persons of Pickaway and adjoining counties. Over 100 pounds of roast beef for the banquet was furnished by a Columbus packing firm. Ice cream was furnished by the dairy and cake by the patrons.

The program opened with the National Anthem, following which T. M. Glick, president of Pickaway Dairy, spoke briefly. Report of the secretary was read by W. E. Berger and of the manager by R. C. Palm.

Music including Christmas carols was included in the program. Three speakers appeared on the program, Christian P. Segards of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation; S. A. Postel, chief of the Federal Food and Drug Administration, Cincinnati, and C. C. Bair of the Ohio Farm Bureau.

Over 100 door prizes, all merchandise, were given away at the close of the program.

The Pickaway Dairy Cooperative Association was organized in 1923 and 1924 and started operations June 1, 1924 with three employees, two hundred members and $600 capital. It was reorganized and incorporated on June 1, 1935. At the present time the dairy operates in Pickaway, Fayette, Ross, Madison, Meigs, Fairfield, Franklin, Scioto, Athens, Hocking, Jackson, Washington, Gallia and Vinton Counties in Ohio, in Greenup County, Kentucky, and in eight counties in West Virginia.

Because of the danger of enemy bombers Chinese students often hold their classes in hillside caverns. It's a queer world in which cave man and professor of philosophy have become synonymous.

The Coming of God's Son

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Newman Campbell
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for December 21 is Isa. 9:6, 7; John 1:1-18; I John 4:9-14, the Golden Text being I John 4:14, "The Father hath sent the Son to be the Savior of the world.")

IN THE lesson for today, the Sunday before Christmas, the sweet stories of Jesus' birth are not included. Our attention is called instead to the prophecy of Isaiah concerning the coming of the Christ, and to what that has meant to the world.

Other babies were born on this day, but none who had such a profound effect upon the world. They were born, lived and died without the world being cognizant of them, but His birth we celebrate in song, story, praise and thanksgiving.

"For unto us a child is born," sang Isaiah, "unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon His shoulder: and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace."

Under all these names has the Christ been worshiped. He is called Wonderful because, according to the meaning of the word, His coming was a miracle. He is our Counsellor, to whom we go in times of stress. The terms Mighty God, and Everlasting Father signify His eternity. Although Jesus spoke of famines, pestilence and wars, nations rising against nation, and said He came not to bring peace, but a sword, nevertheless peace will come some time through Him, our Prince of Peace.

Coming of John the Baptist
From the prophecy of Isaiah we turn to John, who tells us first of the coming of John the Baptist, the messenger of the Lord.

"There was a man sent from God, whose name was John."

"The same came as a witness, to bear witness of the Light (Jesus), that all men through Him might believe."

"That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world."

"He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not."

"He came unto His own, and His own received Him not."

"But as many as received Him, to them gave He power to become sons of God, even to them that believe on His name."

No amount of misery in the world today can keep us from being glad over His coming and renewing our faith that some day He will surely be hailed as "Prince of Peace" because peace really had come.

John the Baptist was an unusual man. Nowhere and at no time did he set himself up as a great man; always he was merely "one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord." "He that cometh after me," he says in our lesson, "is preferred before me: for He was before me."

"And of His fullness have all we received, and grace for grace."

"For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ."

Following His Teachings
Now while we rejoice exceedingly for this our great gift on this Sunday before His birthday, no one truly worships and loves Him who fails to follow His teachings.

"In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent His only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through Him."

"Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us, and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins." And then:

"If God so loved us, we ought also to love one another. No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and His love is perfected in us."

There is the Lesson for today, the one that should be emphasized for children and adults in this troubled world. Love one another; do good to them that hate you; do unto others (all others) as you would that they should do unto you. We think with love as well as awe of that tiny babe lying in the manger and smiling up into the face of His gentle mother, Mary. Babies are so sweet—just ordinary human babies. How much more beautiful must the One Baby have been. He grew up to be a fine boy, a wonderful leader of men, and finally the Christ, who laid down His life for us. We can show our gratitude by not only worshipping, but following His counsel, in our own, often stumbling way, but still going on trying to live the life He would have us live.

ing to live the life He would have us live.

British Reveal Big Jap Force Raiding Island

are probably infested by American submarines.

Ten Chinese divisions—150,000 men—plus uncounted thousands of seasoned guerrilla warriors are concentrated northwest of Canton, near Hong Kong, according to a Tokyo spokesman. And from Chungking, via BBC, came the declaration that Chinese already have taken heavy toll of the Jap armies with their full scale offensive still to be developed to full effectiveness.

Reinforced British imperial forces in Malaya made a determined stand below Penang after withdrawing and shortening their lines on the northwestern Malayan Front. Heavy losses were being inflicted on Jap forces seeking to slip through the jungles and the Japs still have not come in contact with the British armies based on their new main line.

Khar'kov Encircled
In Russia, the retreat of the Nazi armies continued at such accelerated pace that in some areas it resembled a complete rout. More than 500 villages were reported to have fallen to the Russians on the Southern Front and the city of Khar'kov, a rich industrial prize, is being encircled. Facing encirclement and capture on the Northwestern Front is Volokolamsk. Speedy recapture of Rzhnev also was forecast.

Finland, which only a few weeks ago disclaimed generous offers of peace, seemed faced with retribution and revenge by the Soviet armies. London heard reports from Stockholm that Germany was withdrawing her military support from the Finns and these reports coincided with a heavy assault by the Russians in the region between Lake Ladoga and Lake Onega.

Full and final defeat of axis forces in Libya seemed but a matter of time. The British radio reports that the German and Italian forces, termed the "beaten axis contingents" are in full retreat and that the British troops have advanced more than 31 miles in one day.

CURE FOR WORLD'S ILLS

NEW ORLEANS—Charles Morgan, former drama critic for the London Times, now on a lecture tour of the United States, has a cure for the world's ills. All the world needs for future peace, according to Morgan, is formation of an international cultural society completely devoid of politics and "isms." The organization, he said, should maintain armed forces sufficiently strong to "prevent political peace-breakers from breaching world peace."

NAME PARIS MAYORS

PARIS—Paris, as is generally known, has not one, but twenty mayors, one for each of the 20 districts. Nineteen of these, with their assistants, ranging in number from 2 to 4, have just been named. They include five former Prefects, a retired lieutenant colonel, a banker and several business men.

CONGRESS GIVES NATION'S CHIEF GREAT POWERS

Allies May Be Called To Send Delegates To Big Conference

agreement for joint Franco-American defense of the French Islands.

Officials were cheered too by news from the Pacific Front that American "submarine actions against enemy forces in the Far East have resulted in the sinking of an enemy transport and the probable loss of one enemy destroyer."

On the domestic front, there was every indication that the United States is rushing vast manpower, financial resources and unparalleled industrial capacity into the war on any front where they may be needed. War, defense and lend-lease appropriations and authorizations have passed the $70,000,000,000 mark, with a victory budget of staggering proportions still in the making for submission to congress early in January.

The two houses of Congress went into conference to decide how deep the Army, Navy and Marine Corps can dig into the male population to procure fighting men. Both legislative branches were agreed that every man between the ages of 18 and 64 must register. The Senate, standing with the President, held that all between 19 and 44 are eligible for military service, while the House contended a youth should be 21 before he is sent into combat. Compromise on the starting combat age of 20 was forecast generally.

Women May Work
And while Congress conscribed manpower, the office of Civilian Defense and the Department of Agriculture laid plans to register women for farm work. Officials predicted there would be many a "girl behind the plow" next spring and summer.

Frank J. McSherry, chief of the Defense Training Bureau of OPM's Labor Division, told the Georgetown School of Foreign Service that at least 3,000,000 additional workers would be needed in defense industries in 1942. He reported that the nation generally could meet the call but noted a "general shortage of industrial plant superintendents and skilled workers in some lines."

Byron Price, veteran New York and Washington Press Association executive who is to be director of censorship, on arrival here today found a detailed plan awaiting his consideration to keep all information of value to the enemy, out of newspapers and mails and off the radio and cables. Behind him, Price has the unparalleled authority of the War Powers Bill, which President Roosevelt just signed, and which carries heavy penalties for transgressions.

Drastic price control was in prospect early in January as price Administrator Leon Henderson warned Congress it "means national suicide to get into inflation" and the Senate Banking subcommittee agreed on salient points of a measure that will place the control job in one man's hands.

Organized farm groups experienced a setback when the Senate sub-committee eliminated a House provision which would have made the 1919-1929 average of agricultural prices a floor beneath which current prices could not drop. There was still debate on whether parity or 110 percent thereof should be adopted. The full banking committee will get the bill on January 2.

And while the White House, Congress and every agency of the executive branch were thus busy speeding up the war machine, an army of undercover agents was scouring the country to nip espionage, Fifth Column activity and sabotage at the source.

Ingalls In Trouble
In a District of Columbia jail for want of $7,500 bail languished Laura Ingalls, famed aviatrix, arrested by the FBI on charges of having been a German agent since about August 1, 1941, without registering with the State Department. Miss Ingalls told reporters: "I was carrying out my own investigation. I guess I overstepped. I was a free agent." The erstwhile non-interventionist advocate will be given a hearing December 26.

with the theft. He stole the goods while Horvath was in a barber shop, he said.

Casey told local officers he had served two years in Marquette Prison, Mich., and one year in Ohio State Reformatory for larceny.

Horvath, owner and driver of the car, said he was placed on 18 months' parole from Cleveland for passing counterfeit money there.

The two men left Cincinnati Thursday and stayed all night at a hotel in Springfield, they said. They were on their way to Youngstown when apprehended.

Local officers said the stolen goods was for a Chicago mail order house. Washington C. H. police were expected to pick up the two men sometime Friday afternoon.

SEN. TAFT RAPS HULL AND KNOX IN CHICAGO TALK

CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—Declaring that "perhaps the fault at Hawaii was not entirely on the admirals and generals," Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, today called for a congressional probe of Secretaries of State Hull and Navy Knox in connection with the Japanese attack on America's Pacific outpost.

Speaking before the Executive Club of Chicago, Taft said that the "surprise at Hawaii" should be investigated by congressional committees and not left entirely to the "executive department."

"We might well investigate whether Secretary Hull told Secretary Knox the contents of the note which he submitted to the Japanese government 10 days before requiring them to withdraw from China, and which was not published until after the attack on Hawaii," the senator said.

"Did Secretary Knox communicate to the admirals that we had sent an ultimatum to Japan which in all probability they would not accept? Perhaps the fault at Hawaii was not entirely on the admirals and generals."

Emmons Takes Command Of Hawaii's Defenses

HONOLULU, Dec. 19.—Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons today took over his duties as commander of the Army's Hawaiian department and military governor of Hawaii, as Honolulu rushed completion of repairs to bomb-damaged buildings.

General Emmons, succeeding Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short, yesterday paid his first official visit to territorial Governor J. B. Poindexter, and today Governor Poindexter was to return to visit at the busy commander's headquarters.

Principal topic of official discussion today was the adoption of daylight saving time in Hawaii, due to ly blackouts. Manila put daylight time into effect several days ago.

Moving clocks ahead one hour in Hawaii would allow workers to reach home before nightfall. The territorial legislature adopted daylight saving time eight years ago, but the measure was rescinded when it was decided the system was unsuited for the "playground of the Pacific."

Reporting that the cooperation of citizens in emergency defense measures is highly encouraging, the Civilian Defense Director Edouard L. Doty said his office is keeping a close watch on a few retail stores suspected of profiteering. He threatened revocation of licenses, and urged citizens to report all cases of price exploitation.

Local bankers have asked the military governor's office to consider the availability of limiting the amount of money an individual is allowed to possess—explaining that large recent withdrawals indicate that hoarding might cause a shortage of revolving currency in the islands.

A two-hundred-dollar limit, for possession at any given time, was suggested.

were damaged and Ebenhack was treated by a New Holland physician for minor cuts and bruises.

A Barnhill Dry Cleaning truck driven by Leland R. Sieglaw, rammed into the rear end of the automobile of Frank Gordon, Williamsport, on Route 22 west early Friday. Deputy Weaver reported. Sieglaw said his windshield was covered with ice and he failed to see the car ahead of him. Neither driver was injured.

Several cars were reported in the ditch on Route 23 between Circleville and Columbus. The State Highway department said Route 23 north and Route 22 west of Circleville were icy in spots, but all dangerous curves and hills were cindered.

Weatherman Ervin Leist said the fog was due to cold air moving into a relatively warm area. Temperatures Thursday climbed up to 53 degrees and dropped Friday to a low of 26.

TO PUMPKIN SHOW

DIRECTORS: I was pleased the other day to learn that the annual Circleville Pumpkin Show will again be held early in October. Directors have approved this time of the month rather than two weeks later, and I feel certain their chances of obtaining suitable weather for the big event are much better than the later date. Several new directors were named at the annual organization meeting, and several others who have had a good many years of experience in the operation of the Show Society were named for additional terms. I believe that the Agricultural Society is a well-balanced one, that all interests of the community are represented and that the organization is capable of doing fine things. I suggest that a good many of the frills and fancies which have cost a hundred dollars here and a hundred dollars there be eliminated, and that directors look over the entire financial situation in such a way that all unnecessary expense may be eliminated. The resolution that bans free acts should be defended, and stress should again be placed on music just as it was during the last show. I hope also that details such as location of the Junior Fair are not permitted to drag until the week before the festival is scheduled to open. Business men who have been successful in operating their own firms comprise the society's directorate and I am sure that they will do everything possible to make the 1942 Pumpkin Show a great one.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By—
Charles F. Stewart

IN A WAY, it may prove to have been a good thing the Japanese scored so spectacularly against the United States at the very beginning of their blitzkrieg on Uncle Sam. Assuming that American participation in the war was all along, sooner or later inevitable what the country really needed was something to arouse its ebullient to the 100 percent mark, and the Japs' stunt did it—and then some.

Congress all but unanimous vote for recognition of hostilities testified to the nation's practical single-mindedness concerning the emergency. If anything, Congresswoman Jeannette Rankin's one lone negative ballot on the question served rather to emphasize than to detract from the tally's appearance of congressional solidarity relative to it. A unanimous vote is a unanimous vote, but somehow it doesn't sound quite as overwhelming as it does to speak of a 530-to-1 alignment, counting senators and representatives collectively.

If Congresswoman Jeannette Rankin, in her minority of 1 to 530, has many sympathizers, I haven't heard any of 'em express themselves, but I do think she had her nerve with her.

Unanimity is all right, but that's all there is to it. A record of 530 to 1 brings out a good bit of contrast.

To say that the Japs' success in their initial assault on Yankee strongholds in the Pacific, may have had the merit of making Uncle Samuel jump wide awake on extraordinarily short notice, distinctly isn't to say that the command of our armed forces in that direction is excusable for having, apparently been caught napping. It probably will have plenty of explaining to do later, but there's no time to bother with an investigation at present.

BATTLESHIPS OBSOLETE?

Jap performances, incidentally, have given appreciably increased strength to the arguments of critics who have been contending, for quite a while, that the day of the battleship is over; that aviation has rendered that type of craft obsolete.

Other experts, who don't go quite as far as this, nevertheless agree that it's suicidal, as they put it, to send a huge surface fighter into belligerent waters without a perfect swarm of flyers overhead, to protect it from bombing by an enemy that's well equipped with planes and has an adequately trained personnel to drop explosives down its funnels.

Planes, it's asserted on good authority, deserve much more of the credit than surface boats, for British control of the Mediterranean.

And Japan, from all accounts, has concentrated far more intensively than Uncle Sam upon the development of aviation and its bases in the Pacific. The United States, it's stated, can rapidly overcome this superiority, since it has the facilities vastly to out-build Nippon. Nevertheless, it takes a few months to do it—until spring, approximately.

Japan, to one who's personally acquainted with it, has certain weaknesses, in addition to its spirit back of your undertaking predominates today in this land of ours, and I feel that many more organizations in our community are contemplating action similar to yours. There are a good many soldiers who will not get to leave camp this Christmas because of the emergency in which our country finds itself. Anything that can be done to make their days seem more pleasant should be tried.

TO THE WOMEN

LADIES: Wednesday night police reported that a girl was grabbed on West Mill Street. This is not the first time that such incidents have happened in the city, and with the street lights being turned off December 29 the situation becomes even more serious. When walking along dark streets, one should be accompanied by another person. If you must walk alone, carry a weapon of some sort with which you might defend yourself. All property owners have been advised by Council to keep lights on their porches or in their yards to cope with the blackout, but even with that precaution, most of the city streets outside the business district will be in total darkness.

TO MOTORISTS

DRIVERS: From now on we will see an increasingly large number of Army convoys pass through the city on Main and Court Streets. Often local police are advised that these convoys are coming only a few minutes before they arrive in the city, so that not all of the intersections are guarded. Army trucks when passing through have the right-of-way, whether the traffic lights are red or green, and even though there may not be a police officer at the intersection, the safest thing for you to do is keep out of the way. Never try to break through a line of trucks or attempt to drive along with in it. It's a good way to avoid an accident.

TO AMATEUR SHOW WINNERS

PUPILS: The Circleville Kiwanis Club has just completed its series of amateur programs, with Circleville and all of the county schools participating. Those who saw the final contest Wednesday night pronounced the show one of the finest they ever had seen. Williamsport School's show was pronounced best among the participants and Circleville's Girls' Sextette was judged the best single performance. Pupils in all the schools, however, and their directors deserve credit for providing the city and county with some of the best local talent available.

Guard Babies Against Infections by Contact

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I am in receipt of the following letter from the wife of a doctor: "We are the parents of twins, male and female, now nine months old. They have by no means been pampered or spoiled, but my husband made it clear to me from the start that although every child

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

will, in the course of time, catch his share of infectious diseases, one should try to guard them from possible sources of infection until they are better able to cope with them. Incidentally, he holds out for this concerning all babies, not just his own.

"We do not take them with us to stores, theatres, parties, or any crowds. Even so we must people in the house or in the park and there is the rub. The majority of complete strangers will not only come very close and talk to the babies, they will insist on tickling their chins and feet and holding their hands.

"Most people will give in if one refuses to let them hold a baby 'just for a moment,' but they will be deeply offended if one asks them please not to touch the children. I hate to be rude, but I also hate to unnecessarily expose my children to everything from colds to measles.

"Do you think, Dr. Clendening, that we are unjustified in our wish to keep strange hands from our young babies, let's say up to the time when they can walk alone?"

Parents Right

This is a very human problem which no one can solve by issuing ukases, or giving advice, or passing laws. Of course, the parents are right in this instance; the babies should be protected from unnecessary contamination and infection. The fact that they are twins makes it even harder than in the case of a single baby. Human beings just don't seem to be able to keep their hands off twins.

It probably won't do any good, but I think it is worth saying any way. "Will nice old gentlemen in parks who probably have ten billion more kinds of germs than a little baby ever came anywhere near having please be kind enough not to tickle babies under the chin?"

The thing goes even further than this, which is the thoughtlessness that people in general have about sickness. As soon as the wife of your next door neighbor is ill, half the people in the neighborhood can hardly resist sending her flowers and going over and sitting all afternoon and breathing in her face. It is just possible that she went to the hospital in order to get away from that.

Most of this tickling babies under the chin in parks and going to see your sick friends is a form of exhibitionism anyway.

This article probably won't do any good, but I feel like writing it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. M. F.:—"If a patient had diabetes last fall and took insulin for eleven days and cleared of sugar, and has not taken it since, and now has an abscess on the foot which is healing slowly, would it be all right to eat cherries, pears, parsnips, plums and raisins?"

Answer: Your patient has the worst complication of diabetes—complete ignorance of the disease. If the patient had diabetes last fall, he or she still has it; the slowly healing abscess on the foot shows that. Insulin will not cure a case of diabetes in eleven days. Of course, it clears the sugar, but that doesn't mean the diabetes is gone. Insulin must be kept up indefinitely. The articles of diet which you mention are about the worst articles for a diabetic to eat.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN

UNEXPECTED

appointments made it necessary for Susan to postpone the writing of her letter until the next day. She wrote it then, addressed to Fred Mosher, and sent it off with a Special Delivery stamp. The boy from the Ardendale post office brought it to Fred the following afternoon just as he was getting ready to leave.

Fred settled back in his desk chair to read it.

"Dear Fred," Susan wrote. "I got your telegram. It was sweet of you to think of me, and I do hope your and Aunt Alice's faces have returned to their proper color. Everything is moving along smoothly and delightfully. And it may interest you to learn that up to now the 'repercussions,' as you so cleverly put it, have been nothing but favorable."

"People actually seem to like me, believe it or not! In fact, they like me to such an extent, that I'm being given a perfectly beautiful evening gown which was designed by New York's famous and expensive designer—Patricia Potelli! And furthermore, I am wearing it this evening to a Broadway first-night! I feel that it might also interest you to know that the milking scene went off without a hitch. The cow was charming and accommodating, as were the cameramen, the man who directed the scene, and those who looked on while I milked the Dainty Diana Dairies' prize-winning animal. I felt like a movie star straight from Hollywood afterwards, when people came rushing up to ask me for my autograph. So many things are happening to me that I am, frankly, having myself about decided to stay on after my ten days' prize visit is up, since there are so many things I want to do, and since most of the people I've met, the men especially, are so courteous and kind."

"I hope the real estate business is booming, and that Aunt Alice got the check which I mailed to her by registered mail. By the way, let this letter be for Aunt Alice as well as for yourself. I simply haven't the time for writing you separately."

"Yours excitedly, SUSAN."

Frowning, Fred folded the letter and returned it to its envelope. This done, he locked the office door and went down to get into his car. He knew Miss Alice was eager for news of Susan and her activities, "It's the men," said Fred with a so he decided to drive out to the Farmer plantation right away.

Miss Alice was mixing waffle batter when he got there.

"Just in time for a light supper," she told him. "I won't take no for an answer. I made a mistake in my measurements, and I've got enough batter here to feed six people."

"Thanks!" said Fred. "I need no urging. I brought along a letter I had from Susan."

"Oh!" said Miss Alice, looking up, her glasses pushed back from her forehead. "What did she say? Are people laughing at her? Do they think she's—?"

"Just a minute," said Fred, smiling. "I'll read it to you." He sat down in a shuck-bottom kitchen chair. "One thing I can tell right now," he said, "before I read you what she has written. That is, people are NOT laughing at her. Just the reverse, unless Susan is trying to put one over on us. It would seem that the wise and worldly New Yorkers have all fallen for her hoax—hook, line and sinker."

"Thank goodness!" said Miss Alice fervently. She wiped her hands and sat down close to Fred. "That means she won't be put in—in—jail."

"So far, she's at liberty," said Fred.

"Go on," Miss Alice urged, "read me her letter."

Fred did so.

Miss Alice didn't speak at once, when he had finished. She sat thinking.

"Well?" said Fred. "What do you think of it?"

"I'm afraid we hurt her feelings," said Miss Alice, "saying what we did about our faces being red."

"Mine WAS," said Fred. "And you looked pretty uncomfortable yourself, when that broadcast was over."

"Yes, I know. But—but—she did do it for me, in a way," Miss Alice got up and went back to her waffle batter. "I wouldn't want to hurt her."

"Nor would I," said Fred. "Did you deposit the check?"

"You bet I did! I took your advice and never lost a minute. Especially after you said anyone could cash it, since it had Susan's endorsement."

Miss Alice shook her head slowly. "Five thousand dollars in the bank, and—Susan up there in New York, planning to stay longer than the ten days. She MUST be having a good time."

"It's the men," said Fred with a touch of bitterness.

"The men?" said Alice. "What are you talking about?"

"They're so courteous and kind," said Fred. "Our little Susan simply can't resist them. They have apparently swept her right off her pretty little feet."

Miss Alice turned and looked at him.

"Are you jealous?" she asked.

"No, I don't think I am," Fred replied slowly. "But I do hate to see a smalltown girl go to New York and get her head turned by a lot of flattery."

"There, there," said Miss Alice. "Don't go and get all upset just before you eat. It's the worst thing in the world to do. It gets your stomach all out of order, and you can't properly digest your food."

Fred grinned.

"Your waffles melt in a fellow's mouth, anyway," he said. "He doesn't need digestive organs."

"Now who's handing out flattery!" Miss Alice retorted. "Go along with you!"

"Mind if I wash up a little?"

"Of course not. Go right ahead. It'll be a little while yet before we eat."

"I brought along yesterday's New York papers," Fred said as he left the kitchen. "I thought I'd see if Susan was getting any publicity. You know, Miss Alice, Typical Farmer's Daughter knocks the city men for a row of red brick tenements—that sort of thing."

"I believe you ARE jealous," Miss Alice called after him.

"Nonsense!" said Fred. But it didn't ring true.

Presently, when he had finished washing his face and hands, he took the newspapers out to the front porch. There he settled himself to look them over.

The first made no reference at all to Susan Farmer, but the second one did. It even carried Susan's picture, along with that of the Dainty Diana Dairies' favorite cow. "Winner of Typical Farmer's Daughter Contest Does Her Stuff," said the caption. Fred stared at the picture with frank disapproval, and yet he was glad that Susan hadn't gone so far as to wear her silly sunbonnet and gingham gown. Thank the Lord, she had worn her traveling suit when she sat down upon the three-legged stool to milk for the sake of publicity and the Dainty Diana Dairies.

WHILE affairs of the young and socially or romantically inclined may be very active and move briskly to very happy denouements, yet business and all workaday interests may be under adverse astral conditions. There is a peculiar strange or irregular cast to rather upsetting or devastating situations which may call for astute, watchful and resolute behavior. This menace seems to be involved with elders.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year of much gaiety, activity and youthful interests, perhaps of a romantic nature or kindred happy pursuits, while in business there may be signs of disintegrating and surprising circumstance arising from a curious, irregular or foreign source. ## Cropp Leads C.A.C. To Victory With 22 Points

Circleville C.A.C. cagers kept their season's record unblemished Thursday evening by defeating the Magnetic Springs Independents, 56-38, in a fast game that featured offensive play. Twenty-two points dumped into the net by Wilford Cropp, southpaw C.A.C. star, topped all the scorers, Herb Hutchinson of the invaders getting 16 counters.

The C.A.C. led all the way, grabbing a 23-6 lead at the quarter, being on top 31-14 at the half and 44-22 at the three-quarter mark.

HILLSBORO '5' INVADES C. A. C.

Circleville High Quintet Faces Task In Trying To Stop Perrin

Hillsboro's fast Indians, led by six foot three inch Pete Perrin, come to Circleville Friday night intent on winning a South Central Ohio League victory from Roy Black's Red and Black quintet.

The tall Perrin has been high scorer for the Hillsboro boys in all games played this season.

Perrin is aided by a strong supporting cast which includes Dick Davis and Creed at forwards and Bumgarner and Rhude at guards. Davis is the all-South Central football quarterback and Bumgarner made the SCO team at tackle, although he also played fullback.

Rhude is six feet two inches tall. Coach Black, whose boys have been hot and cold all season, is not certain concerning his starting lineup. If Bob Moon's ankle has healed sufficiently he is expected to return to his guard post. However, the Tiger mentor has made no statements concerning his first five.

A reserve game will start at 7:15, the games being played in the C. A. C. gymnasium.

WHITTAKER FAVORED FOR MIAMI JOB; ZUPPKE, TOO?

OXFORD, Dec. 19 — Robert Whittaker, an outstanding success as coach at Bowling Green during the past season, was still rated as the leading candidate to succeed Frank Wilton as coach of Miami University following the latter's resignation yesterday.

It was also rumored that Robert Zupke, retired coach at the University of Illinois, had applied for the position. President A. H. Upham of Miami said that the school would "get the best man we can, as quickly as possible."

Wilton's future plans are vague, although he said in his letter of resignation he would probably seek some sort of a defense position during the present national emergency.

Wilton came to Miami in 1932 after a year as assistant to "Pop" Warner at Stanford. He won Buckeye conference championships in 1932, 1933 and 1936 but in the last three years, Miami teams have won but three games while losing 21. His difficulties reached a climax a year ago when members of his team petitioned for his removal.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Alsaab, the sensational two-year-old colt, started 22 times this year and won 15 of his races for a net purse total of more than $110,000. Alsaab now will race in Florida.

Wayne Hiatt brought his Amanda Ex-Highs to Circleville for a preliminary and dropped a well-played 24-18 contest to the Blue Ribbon Dairy. The defensive play of Clark Martin featured the game, the former Circleville athlete holding Hiatt to two goals.

Jim Callahan hit the hoop for five buckets to pace the winners, while Lutz and Hiatt each had five points for the losers.

The evening's first preliminary saw the Emery Club win 29-17 from some high school seniors, nice teamwork marking the Emery's victory.

Col. Jackson To Remain In Command Of Medics

Camp Shelby Announces Veteran Officer Will Retain Position

HAD PLANNED TO LEAVE

Long Career Traced From First Service In 1904; Honored By Aides

Announcement was made in Camp Shelby, Miss., Friday, that Colonel Harry D. Jackson of Circleville will remain in active military service after January 1 when he was scheduled to be released. Colonel Jackson, a practicing physician in Circleville, is in command of the 12th Medical Regiment.

At a dinner held last week, Colonel Jackson was presented a gold wrist watch by officers of the 12th Medical Regiment as a token of their high esteem for their commanding officer.

Colonel Jackson's service in the Army has been almost continuous since January 29, 1904, when he was commissioned a first lieutenant of infantry. He became a captain May 3, 1906, with Company F, Fourth Infantry, Ohio National Guard, and resigned June 4, 1907. He reentered service September 1, 1908, and served in non-commissioned grades in Headquarters, First Battalion, Fourth Infantry, to December 4, 1909, when he was commissioned first lieutenant in infantry and he served as adjutant, First Battalion, Fourth Infantry until January 27, 1916. On that date he transferred to the Medical Department in the same grade.

On Mexican Border

Colonel Jackson took part in Mexican border service from June 19, 1916, to March 3, 1917, and was in Medical Officers' Training Camp, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, from June 25, 1917, to August 15, 1917, after which he rejoined his regiment which had been designated the 166th Infantry, 42nd (Rainbow) Division, and sailed October 15, 1917, for France with the A. E. F.

He was commissioned a medical corps captain February 11, 1918, and became major in the medical corps a month later. Colonel Jackson served in the Lunelville, Baccarat, Suippes, Essey-Parnes sectors and major engagements included Champagne - Marne, Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and the Argonne.

He received his discharge June 6, 1919, and was decorated with the Silver Star.

In reorganization of the National Guard after the war, he was commissioned a lieutenant colonel and served as executive officer of the 12th Medical Regiment until the death of Colonel Harry H. Snively, when he was commissioned colonel August 3, 1931, and placed in command of the 12th Medical Regiment.

TWO CARS IN COLLISION AT COURT, WATT STREETS

Cars of Clay Gillon, Ashville Route 2, and Samuel Cook, Circleville Route 3, collided at Court and Watt Streets Thursday about 8 p. m. with slight damage to both cars.

The accident happened when Gillon's car, going east on Pinckney Street, turned north on Court into the path of Cook's car, which was headed west on Pinckney, according to Patrolman Elmer Merriman.

CENSOR ON HAND WHILE SOLDIER WINS PROPER REPLY TO HIS PROPOSAL

CINCINNATI, Dec. 18.—Ruth Gramke told friends today of a 4,000-mile telephone proposal of marriage she received from her sweetheart, Private Joseph Chessey, somewhere in Hawaii—with a censor listening in. The important point was that she replied: "Yes."

Chessey put in the call yesterday and the accommodating censor interrupted only once, this when the conversation strayed from its romantic subject matter. Miss Gramke asked about the Jap attacks and here the censor apologetically broke in with the admonition:

"Sorry, conversation of that type is not permitted."
